AN EXCEPTIONAL RAILWAY COMPANY.

The N. C. O. is the only railroad west of the Rocky Mountains which is not owned and controlled by an incorporation. This is the exclusive property of individuals, who paid for it out of their own pockets, and who are not indebted to any State county or city to the amount of a single nickel, in the matters of subsidy or other assistance. Although the road, from the time it passed into the possession of the present owners, has never paid a dollar upon the investment, but, on the contrary, has been a continual drain upon them, it is conducted upon a more liberal scale than any railway on the Pacific coast. It pays the highest rates of wages to its employees and for all classes of labor. It purchases nearly all of its supplies in Reno, and it expends every month in the town more money than the united local expenditure of the Southern Pacific and Virginia and Truckee. It procures nothing from abroad which can be furnished or constructed here, and at the end of every month its bills are paid to the last dollar, the treasury deficiency being made good by prompt remittances of gold coin from the owners in the East. The cars which conveyed the excursionists to Amedee last Saturday were all constructed in the workshops here, although they could have been procured at less cost in the East, but it is the policy of owners to contribute as much as possible to the support of the section in which they are doing business, and from which in the future they hope to derive a profit as the result of their liberality and enterprise.

These are the facts, which were perhaps unknown to many of our readers, and the Gazette deems it but justice to give them publicity. In its opinion, moreover, it will become any resident of this section to criticize adversely the action of the liberal and public spirited gentlemen who are doing so much, at present personal loss, to build up the country which is the locality of their operations. They ask nothing but fair and courteous treatment at the hands of the people of this community.

The above from the Reno Gazette is worth a careful perusal by the people of Nevada who have been bled for years by corporations who ship the dollars away from Nevada as fast as they are earned.

REID ON INGALLS.

Senator Ingalls who is very fond of stirring up hornet nests, found a lively one in Whitelaw Reid. Reid was asked if he had read ex-Senator Ingalls' criticism of his candidacy for the Vice Presidency.

"No," said Reid with laughter. The reporter showed Reid the passages where Ingalls sneered at him as uxorious and an aristocrat, objected to his dress, manners and ways and spoke of his supercilious insults to workmen.

"That," said Reid, with more seriousness, "is absurd. I have been a laboring man myself, far more than Ingalls ever was, and he would probably be puzzled to specify any insult, supercilious or otherwise, that I ever offered to labor or to any honest laboring man. I doubt if Powderly or any other reputable and responsible labor leader, will say that the union labor question turned 1,000 labor votes in the United States last fall. Certainly it did not turn one where a single rifle shot at the Carnegie works turned thousands."

"What about the uxoriousness and aristocracy?" urged the reporter. "Oh paw," said Reid, "Whoever heard before of a rational man's attacking a candidate because he was decently fond of his wife? The rest of Ingalls' complaint seems to be also that I act like a gentleman. Well, out in Kansas, they surely didn't bring that accusation against him when he was the last candidate, although he abandoned his supposed principles and crawled in the dirt before them. Mrs. Lease and Mr. Peffer thrust him into the gutter. He has been lying there every since, shouting mud and bad language. "What can be the motive for the attack? How do I know, and what's the use of guessing? He seems to lack employment since he was thrown out of his office holding and I suppose the man must make a living by lecturing or writing for syndicates. We have dozens of such statesmen out of a job applying to us for work after every election and I fancy your paper has the same experience."
